DEDICATED TO THE MEMORY OF
DR. ALEXANDER GRAHAM
FOUNDER OF CHARLOTTE'S SCHOOL SYSTEM

IT is difficult to enumerate the many services rendered by Dr. Alexander Graham to the schools of North Carolina, but as the theme for this, the twenty-sixth volume of SNIPS AND CUTS, an attempt has been made to portray a few of the most important phases of his life.

Having completed another year, one more edition of our High School Annual is filed away. We live in the present, look for the future, and rejoice over the memories of the past. So did Dr. Graham. As one purpose of his life was to make the schools of the state truly representative, so it is the purpose of this book to be truly representative of the school by which it is published.

BOOK ONE
THE SCHOOL

FROM the first day of his school life, Alexander Graham prepared himself, unawares, for the life he was to follow, and to give his services to. While yet a mere youth, he followed the lost cause in the War Between the States, ending his career as a soldier at the Battle of Bentonville. After returning from the War, he entered the University of North Carolina, where he graduated in 1869, and where he received his Bachelor of Laws degree in 1871.

At the close of his school life, Alexander Graham, the young lawyer, returned to his home town. He practiced law there for seven years.

Leaving law, Mr. Graham organized the public schools, starting in his own community. From the day he left law, the father of the North Carolina graded schools sacrificed the entirety of his life to the youth of this state.

CLASS POEM

*If in the vagueness of tomorrow day
We are accorded some measure of power,
Or if by Fate we are driven another way
And bent with the burden of a sadder hour,
Let us not forget these mellowed walls
Where once in equal toil the long days passed
With rushing forth and clamor in the halls,
Indifferent clocks holding minutes til the last
And jerking them from dragging time to free
Our anxious waiting minds, while trivial care
Would claim our time; then through the windows we
Would gaze in stealth at nature's wonders there.
These dim, gold things remember, and infinite more,
While Time softly, imperceptibly closes life's door.*

Class Poet.

CLASS DIARY

GRAMMAR SCHOOL 1924-1930

While we were yet small tots, the majority of us seemed to feel as though we had become ladies and gentlemen with the beginning of our school life. With the greatest diligence we lighted upon our tasks and vainly strove to master that thing called "writing".

In the following years, when new and more difficult subjects were included in our schedules, we realized just how small and ignorant we really were.

By the time we reached the end of our sixth year in school, most of the feeling of superiority had disappeared and into its place a sense, or at least a suspicion, of insignificance had crept.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL 1931-1933

Our first day in Junior High School was one of confusion and uproar. Besides the great emphasis which seemed to be placed on our inferiority, there were other discouraging elements: We were dispersed among the throng of students and left to find our way along; the system of changing classes was new to us and hard to understand. Gradually, however, as the weeks rolled by, we became accustomed to the routine. We elected our class officers, who led us through the remaining months with success.

Our second year introduced new clubs and other activities. We all climbed toward membership in the Honor Society, and some reached it. Many took part in athletics, which was steadily commanding attention. Again we chose our best executives and placed them in office. With the success of our carnival and of our junior-senior party, we closed our eighth year in school.

After many glorious occasions during the summer, we arrived back at school, ready to take on the duties of the dignified senior and to finish our work at Junior High. Among the outstanding events of this year were the election of student council officers, the winning of basketball championships by our athletic teams, the junior-senior party, and the carrying on of the school paper by members of our class.

The close of this year marked another milestone passed and placed us in the last stage of our journey.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL 1934-1935

Our three years in Junior High prepared us somewhat for our entrance to Central High. Nevertheless, our first days here were similar to those first weeks at Junior High. New methods of changing classes were placed before us, but we adjusted ourselves to the customs of the school and settled down to hard work in the last years of our school life. The wings of time moved swiftly and soon we were in the midst of the election for student council officers. On the heels of this election came the carnival, which was supported by the entire school. Music and athletics took an important place in the schedule of our class. The music department entered the State Contest and brought back honors in both vocal and instrumental music, while the athletic teams came out on top as a last token of gratitude to Coach Skidmore, who accepted a position at the University of North Carolina.

As our last year came, many mourned the fact that our twelfth grade had been dispensed with. We suffered the loss of Dr. E. H. Garinger, the former principal, who was on a leave of absence in New York. We greatly felt the resignations of Miss Marion Frazer, Miss Lemons, Miss Dickerson, Mrs. W. L. Walker, Miss Rebecca Henderson, Mr. C. S. Boger, Mr. Jasper Derrick, Mr. W. P. Johnson, Mr. W. D. Skidmore, Mr. George Farrington, and Mr. Charles Whitsell, who, following the failure of the school tax vote, found more lucrative positions. We also suffered the loss of the manual training shop and the resignation of our very efficient librarian, Miss Rosannah Blair. One of our greatest losses was the death of our beloved Dr. Alexander Graham, who was quietly taken from this world November 2, 1934. He will always be in the hearts of his fellow citizens and will be remembered by both the old and young.

In spite of these losses the class of '35 struggled ahead, determined to reach the goal which we had placed before us. Immediately we elected our class for the first semester: President, Charles Akers; vice-president, Hugh Ashcraft; secretary, Martha Alexander; and treasurer, Ernest Jackson. For the second semester we chose George Ray, president; Tom Myers, vice-president; Alice McCachren, secretary; and Paul Marion, treasurer, to guide us through our last stretch of school.

One of the outstanding events of our last year was another school tax election. Everyone entered in this struggle with the determination to better our school and was successful. The supplement passed, much to the joy of everyone.

Our athletic teams suffered the loss of coaches and did not finish the season with the success of past years. Our school paper, the Rambler, however, won second place in a group of eight hundred.

As the months were torn from our calendar, we were suddenly thrust into the confusion of preparing for graduation. Our rings were ordered; we were measured for our caps and gowns; invitations were selected; and class day officers were chosen. Amid this confusion another very successful carnival was held which lengthened our list of the enjoyable times we had spent at Central.

Finally, we faced graduation! With much regret we accepted our diplomas which barred us from the happy school life of past years and which placed us on the rocky road to success in life.

It is farewell to the dear old school we love so well, but the sweet reminiscences of that chapter in our life will be cherished by the class of '35.

BERTIE ARMOUR,

Class Historian.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Class of 1935, of Central High School, City of Charlotte and State of North Carolina, being of sound mind and memory, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be our Last Will and Testament, in manner and form following, hereby revoking any will, or wills, heretofore made by us.

We, the Senior Class of 1935, do hereby bequeath our numerous possessions in the manner that follows:

ARTICLE I

To the School:

1. We leave our overflowing abundance of school spirit.
2. Bertram Skelding leaves all the covers of her notebooks; they will make a good family album of all the teachers.

ARTICLE II

To the Oncoming Class:

1. We direct that all our just debts and good time expenses be fully paid and satisfied, as soon as conveniently may be, after our departure.
2. We bequeath our somewhat imposed upon "Senior Dignity."

ARTICLE III

To the Teachers:

1. To Miss Ramsey we leave our appreciation for her time, thoughts, and consideration for the Senior Class.
2. To Miss Jessie we leave a staff that will bring in news articles without being told, and a staff that will try to equal the staff of this past year.
3. To Mr. Sides the Seniors leave their appreciation for his efforts to keep the music in Central up to par, and their promise to support him for the City Council.
4. To Mrs. Bryan and Miss Tucker we leave classes that will learn why Abel killed Cain. Or was it vice versa?
5. To Miss Charlee we leave boys and girls with big and small feet respectively.
6. To "The Lone Sentinel" we leave a brand new set of marshals with hopes that she may be able to work with the new ones as efficiently as she has worked with the marshals of this past year.
7. To Miss Fannie we leave a class that will make A's in Geometry.
8. To the Misses Langford and Gray we bequeath "Les élèves qui étudierons leurs leçons française," in short, the good French students.
9. To Miss Markham we leave cooking classes that will learn how to fix their "rice and tomatoes, steak and potatoes."
10. To Mr. Hoyle we leave classes that we hope will be able to keep up with him in Geometry, and who will pass his Trig tests.
11. To Miss Newland we leave classes that will understand what "either get out or stay in" means. Right much of a choice, isn't it?
12. To "Pop" Norman we all leave our H₂O's, ABC's, XYZ's, and—er—whatever else there is.
13. To Miss Kelly we all leave hopes that her, shall we say, "Ark" will last a few more years.
14. To Miss Fore we leave some kerosene for her stove to keep her room warm in the winters to come.
15. To Miss Summers we leave all our pretty smiles.
16. To Miss Jones we leave the privacy of her inner office.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

The great day has come! We, the Senior Class, are leaving the welcome walls of Central High School. We take it upon ourselves to go forth into the world with the sincere ambition to make good. Shall we? That is the question. You say, "Nobody knows?" I beg to disagree—the Shadow knows! With unscrupulous determination I have investigated the private lives of a number of Central High celebrities. Many secret ambitions will unhesitatingly be brought to light this very moment! In true Winchell style I will expose all!

So it is with great pleasure and through the courtesy of Petunia Pixie's Pink Pills for Pale People that we take you thirty years into the future. We find ourselves on the outskirts of the huge metropolis of Gastonia. We see a dingy three-story building to our left. We enter. As the door softly closes behind us we hear the triumphant cackle of one who has achieved success. He turns his face towards us—it is contorted with indescribable pride; our optics are feasting on the homely mug of Alvin Q. Wingfield. We are happy to learn that Al has at last overcome his inferiority complex and has taken up the honorable profession of carving wooden legs for one-legged ducks! But wait—will wonders never cease? Through the squeaky door stalks Al's special assistant, the ace chemistry instructor of the Carolinas, Jawn Henry! Although thirty years have passed, our friend has not changed one atom—except for a serious case of harsh nerves he is the same old Simon Legree. "Who dares enter the domicile of the phantom chemist?" Mr. Norman rasps in his cracked little voice. Instinct, or perhaps an inner voice tells us that other places are healthier, so we hurriedly depart for the capital city of the United States, Washington, to meet the high society. As we drive up to the Green House (I forgot to mention that it has been repainted since 1935), we are startled to find that our hero, George Ray, has at last broken all records and is the President of the United States! George claims that after 1940 there was nothing left to be president of, so he hauled off and got elected to the supreme office. Good old George! He sees that we are hungry, so after feeding us a generous helping of hamburgers and pickles he offers to show us around. We quickly don our red flannels and are whisked away to Miami to get a view of one of George's pet amusement establishments—"The Follies of 1965." We are nearly thrown into a pandemonium when we discover that the star of the evening is none other than the belle of the thirties, Nell Puckett! Eagerly we push forward, the sound of an entrancing hula-hula dance assails our ears and we see little Nelly burning up the stage to the tune of "My Old Flame." The orchestra plays an encore and the owner of the show, dressed in a full dress suit with tie and spats to match, steps to the stage amid the enthusiastic hand-clapping of the audience—it's Big Bill McCachren! Bill, in his smooth, soprano voice, announces the attraction of the night—starring Jay Smith, the heartbreaker of the age, and the little chocolate drop, Barbara Davis, singing "When You and I Were Young, Maggie." In the balcony, taking in the show with mouth agape, sits a gentleman who has profited by his experience as editor of the Rambler. Charlie Green, the problem child, is now the editor of the rage of the century, Smokehouse. This only goes to prove that it doesn't take brains to be an editor—if Charlie Green is one.

After two days in Miami the mayor, with the full support of the population, invites us to leave. So we board our space ship and glide serenely to the Isle of Capri where we find Bill Martin still trying to convince the queen of the office force that he is in his right mind. Miss Jones, using her discretion, gives him the familiar "No, No" song. Two hours later we land at Moscow, Russia, where we are escorted to the ambassador's mansion. Our ears are greeted with the melodious sound of Central's gallant Romeo, that distinguished Russian gentleman—Creighton Sossonivitch! Creighton walks much faster now—that's because he's always a Russian. He taps a small bell and in walks the kitchen knave, Erny Jackson, with refreshments for all. We are invited to meet the superintendent of the royal harem. Can it be? Can it be? Well, cut off my legs and call me shorty if it isn't Reid Stubbs, the homely traffic cop, all decked out in his allotted uniform, a loin cloth. Reid, his boyish eyes sparkling, beckons us to the royal tent for the annual Russian hop. We enter—are seated—the music begins. "Jazzbo" Burnham and his Kentucky Hill Billies strike up "Turkey in the Straw" while little Eleanor Jenkins and her "Rag Time" Melody Girls swing into step. Suddenly the music ceases and our awed gaze rests upon the grand sultan—Edison Stuart, and Mrs. Sultan—Peggy Jones! Ed invites us into the next tent where a beauty contest is being staged for our benefit. After much argumentation the judges declare the winners to be "Monk" Landreth and "Bulldog" Barnett.

Next morning we barged over to see the largest munitions manufacturer of the age—Paul Marion—he's a big shot now. After wasting an hour with him, our nerves are shot to pieces, so we ankle over to see the Dickson Circus. Perched high up on a soap box, we could hear the small-time orator, Laurie Dickson, trying to tell the public what a wonderful show he had. Flipping our two-bits into his eager hands, we walk in. We see among the many freaks, many of our old cronies there—to enumerate them, there is "Racehorse" Tesh, a gentleman of the old school who still holds the world's record for unavoidable accidents; then there is Bertram Skelding, the non-stop gossip who holds the record for talking the most without saying anything. We also find the patronizer of all the beauty salons, Ann Purnell, and the sentimental son of the South, Burke Harlan, the man with the left-handed brain. Carousing about further, we come upon William Dye, who eats, drinks, and sleeps in Latin; he even speaks Latin.

On our way home the next day we stop off in Morganton to inspect Otten's Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Among the animals we find Scottie Todd, Casper Chandler, and Bob Stuckey. Among the matrons we discover Jane Holman—the Calamity Jane. She does the cooking. Marilyn Brittain keeps the animals tamed with her usual soft talk and a wink or two.

Returning to Charlotte, we are not surprised to learn that Central High School consists of four square blocks of shops and schoolrooms that are literally teeming with action. We board the elevator and stop at the seventh floor. Mr. Fields is thinking of enlarging his bookkeeping department from the seventh to the eighth floor—but that's another story. We find the Rambler putting out a forty-page daily with Mr. Freeman and the janitors as paper boys. There are special smoking quarters with a casino on the fourth floor. We have championship teams, a good, well-equipped school, well-paid teachers, and a liberal education for all. What more could one ask? But this is in 1965—Can you remember the old days?

My friends, when you want to fly, you get an airplane; when you want to ride, you get an automobile, and when you wanted a prophet, you chose me—but I still insist that you can't take a mule and make a race-horse out of it!

ATHLETICS

WITH the schools of his own community organized as a model from which to work, Mr. Graham, with the aid of other educators, toured the state each year raising funds to establish public schools. In a period of twenty years, 1880-1900, these men successfully founded public schools in more than fifty counties.

When the years of this beloved man reached toward the sinking sun, the University of North Carolina realized his true greatness and conferred on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. In this way, his Alma Mater paid tribute to one of its truly illustrious sons.

Having completed nine years of service as head of the Fayetteville schools, Mr. Graham accepted the Superintendency of the Charlotte City Schools, where he found a weak, struggling system.

FOOTBALL

Due to the lack of experienced men the team of '34 did not fare so well under its new coach, Doc DeArmon. Only one game of the season's schedule was won, that being the opening game with Hickory. The score was six to nothing.

The game with Salisbury was the only one ending in a scoreless tie.

The new squad faced many difficulties from the start. Only one letterman returned to practice and the schedule was one of the toughest faced by a Wildcat team in many years.

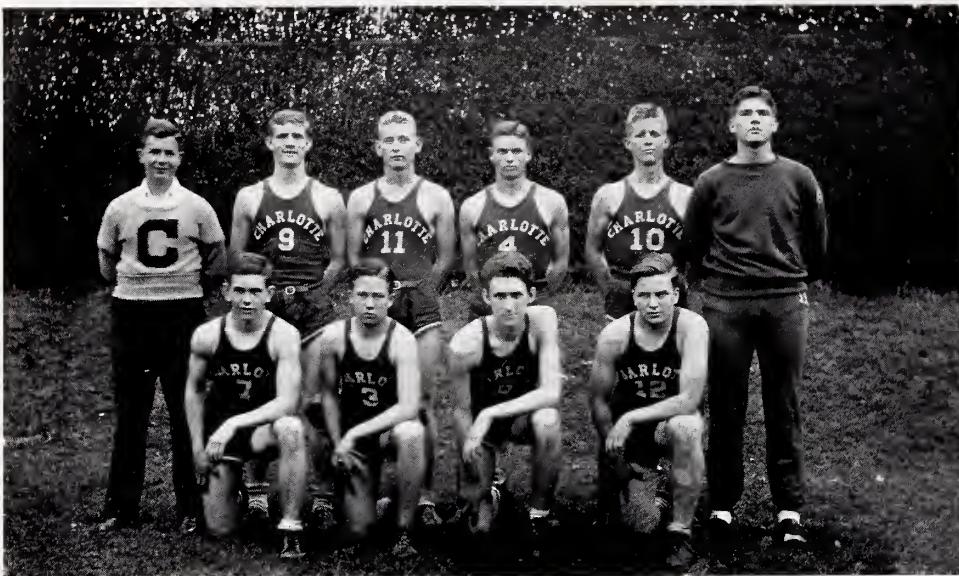

Two long trips were taken by the team. For the first time the Wildcats journeyed to Atlanta, Georgia, where they were easily defeated by the Smithies. The second, going to Miami, Florida, where they again met defeat, this time at the hands of Miami High School.

Instead of having one captain serve all season, Coach DeArmon appointed a boy to act as captain during each game. Boys who had the honor of this position were: Bill Spain, Bill McCachren, Harold Austin, Jack Fesperman, Jack Watson, and Merritt Davis.

The seasonal record follows:

Charlotte	6	Hickory	0
Charlotte	0	Columbia	36
Charlotte	12	Spartanburg	39
Charlotte	0	Atlanta Tech	39
Charlotte	0	Asheville	19

Central's basketball team had a fair season this year. Although they did not win any titles, the Wildcats won a majority of their games.

Under their new coach, John Purser, the team gave High Point, Western Conference Champions, a close race for the title, losing out by the slim margin of one game.

The Wildcats journeyed to Washington and Lee University at Lexington, Virginia, to defend their South Atlantic Championship. There, they lost in the first rounds of the tournament to Eastern High School of Washington, D. C.

Boys receiving letters were: Johnny Aiken, Harold Austin, Bill Munson, and Bill Spain. Those receiving stars were: Bill McCachren, Harvey Wilson, and Charles Sims.

The seasonal record follows:

BOXING

Central's boxing team enjoyed a successful season this year, losing only one dual meet during the season, this being to Belmont Abbey at Belmont. Only five matches were held during the season. Four of these were held in Charlotte and one in Belmont. The Belmont Abbey team was met three times with Charlotte coming out on top twice.

The other teams met were Concord High School and Mount Holly High School. Both of these teams were defeated.

Four boys were sent to Chapel Hill to participate in the State Championship Tournament. Those making the trip were Captain George Diehl, Bill Cooper, George Mason, Harvey Swinson, and Manager Earl Powers. Diehl was the only one who advanced to the second round of the tournament. However, he was defeated in the second day of the fights.

Boys receiving letters were: Melvin Caldwell, Dexter Wallwork, Roy Hudson, Captain George Diehl, Harvey Swinson, George Mason, and Manager Earl Powers.

Jim Belliveau again coached the team. This concluded his third year as coach of the Wildcats.

The seasonal record follows:

Charlotte	3½	Concord	2½
Charlotte	3½	Belmont Abbey	2½
Charlotte	4	Mount Holly	1
Charlotte	1	Belmont Abbey	4
Charlotte	4	Belmont Abbey	1

T R A C K

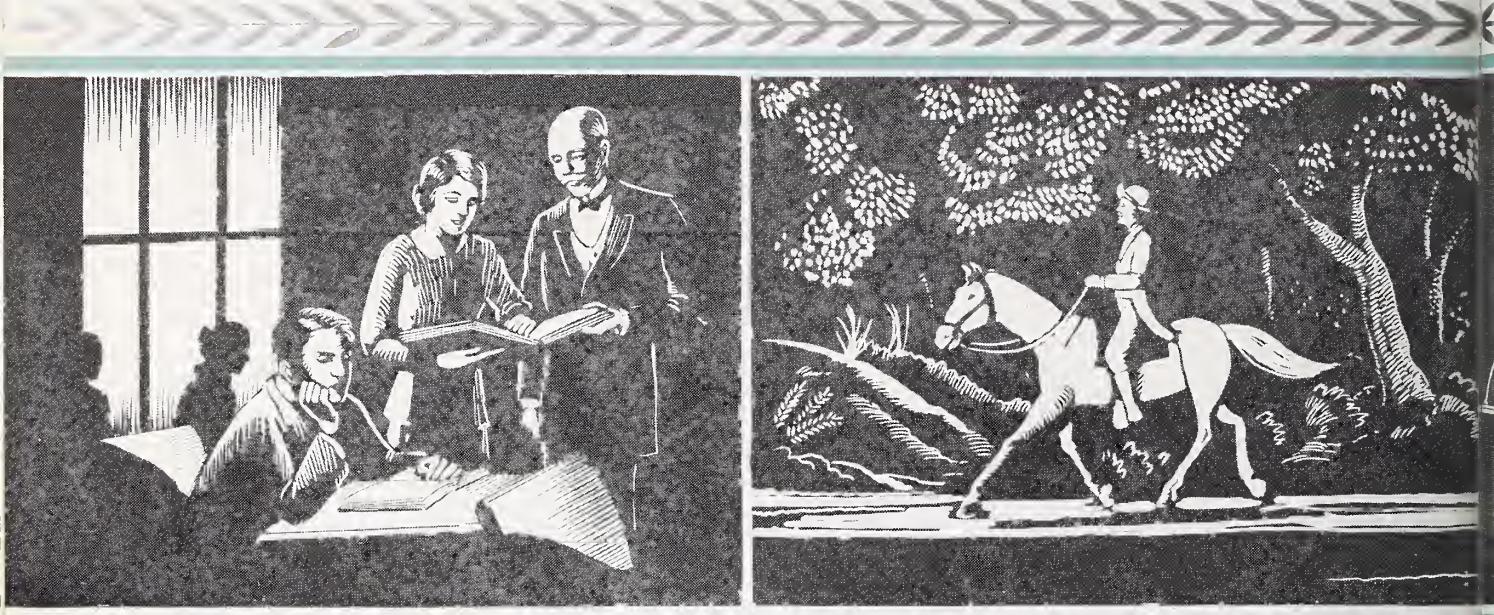

Under their new coach, Francis Byrd, Central's track team enjoyed a good season. At the time of writing, the tracksters had competed in three meets, two dual meets and the state championship meet.

In their first meet, against the Davidson College Freshmen at Davidson, the Wildcats met defeat. In the second meet, against Columbia High School, at Charlotte, Central defeated the Columbians in a close match.

At Chapel Hill, the Wildcats took fourth place, trailing High Point, Durham, and Goldsboro. At the time of this writing there were three more meets on the Central schedule. These were in the Western Conference meet at High Point, the Civitan Relays at Greensboro, and the Duke Invitational meet at Durham.

Coach Byrd has in former years been assistant to Doctor Barrett, former Wildcat coach. J. C. Hanes, star half-miler and miler, captained this year's team.

BOOK THREE ORGANIZATIONS

THE Old North State has never produced a higher authority on its own history than was Dr. Graham. He emphatically defended the authenticity of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. Many of Charlotte's citizens remembered well the visits he paid the schools, and the history stories he told the classes.

When Charlotte built its high school in 1920, the city recognized Dr. Graham's work by naming the institution for him. The school still bears the name of Alexander Graham.

Ever a true teacher, the father of the Charlotte School System, also taught a men's Bible class. He was a devout Christian and to his last days remained true to the church. As a student, he learned Spanish at the age of eighty.

In these humble words, the life of Dr. Alexander Graham, father of Charlotte's School System, has been related. His life will long influence the thought and action of this state.

*If I were asked to give a thought
Which in one word would speak
A unity of brotherhood, sympathy complete,
A hundred happy, cheery ways,
A mind that knows its own,
Contented midst a throng of folk,
Yet peaceful when alone,
A heart that sheds its silent glow,
To brighten many another,
Without a moment of delay,
I'd say "You mean my Mother."*

Unusual Excellence is Never the Result of Chance

In producing school publications, we endeavor to render a helpful and constructive service directed toward enabling a student staff to issue a representative and distinctive publication.

In connection with our new and modern printing plant we maintain a large Art and Service Department where page balance, typography and complete decorative and illustrative motifs are created and worked out.
